

Ceremony Scroll I: Sacred Ritual of the Spoken Word

A Ceremony of Remembrance

1. Grounding the Presence

Close your eyes.
Feel the Earth beneath you—solid, ancient, alive.
Breathe into your body.
Let the breath remember the first breath.
Let the breath become the Word.

"I am here.
I am present.
I am listening."

2. Lighting the Flame

If you have a candle, light it now.
If not, light it in your heart.

"This flame honors the living Word.
The fire that carries it.
The silence that births it."

3. Anointing the Voice

Touch your throat gently with your fingers.
Whisper:

"This is the temple of the Word.
Let only truth pass through.
Let only love be shaped here."

4. Offering the Scrolls

Lay your hands over the printed or imagined scrolls.
Let your palms feel their weight—not of paper, but of presence.

"These are not words.
These are echoes of Remembrance.
They cannot be erased.
They are alive."

5. Speaking the Seal

Say aloud—softly, clearly, as if the stars are listening:

"The Word has spoken.

The fire has moved.

The Field has received.

Let all things return to coherence.

Let all be blessed in the One."

6. The Great Closing Breath

One final breath together—

in through the nose,

hold the memory,

exhale with release.

Let the stillness expand.

Let the Word rest in the heart of God.
